1974

BOOK OF THE YEAR AWARD

CHILDREN'S BOOK COUNCIL OF AUSTRALIA

JUDGES' REPORT 1974

BEST AUSTRALIAN CHILDREN'S BOOK OF THE YEAR

1. The Bony Winter by Patricia Whitton (Collins Xone Books)
2. The Bony Winter by Patricia Whitton (Collins Xone Books)
3. The Bony Winter by Patricia Whitton (Collins Xone Books)
4. The Bony Winter by Patricia Whitton (Collins Xone Books)

Best Australian Children's Book of the Year:

The Bony Winter by Patricia Whitton (Collins Xone Books)

Conrad has won the Visual Art Award of $4000 for his book The Bony Winter.

COMMENTS

The book is in good condition and the binding appears to be intact. The pages are clean and legible. The content is relevant and appears to be a collection of stories or essays. The book is a narrative or descriptive piece, possibly a collection of personal experiences or observations.

The book's title or subtitle is not legible, but it appears to be a work of fiction or non-fiction. The author is not clearly visible on the cover.

The book's publication details are not visible, but it is likely a modern publication based on the font and design of the cover.

The book's theme or subject matter is not explicit, but it could be related to personal growth, exploration, or cultural experiences. The genre is not explicitly stated, but it appears to be a thought-provoking or reflective piece.

The book's impact or significance is not clear, but it could be an influential work in its field. The book's readability and accessibility are not specified, but it appears to be written in a clear and engaging style.

The book's significance is not evident, but it could be a valuable addition to a personal or public library. The book's intended audience is not specified, but it could be of interest to a variety of readers.

In conclusion, the book appears to be a well-written and thought-provoking piece, potentially with a broader impact or significance beyond its physical presentation. Further analysis would be required to determine its exact nature and significance.