CLASS C — JUNIOR BOOK OF THE YEAR AWARD

Appeal to children

Classes B and C should reflect a high standard of production and design and may have a young reader appeal. The award is for the junior book of the year.

1981 judges' choice.

THE CHILDREN'S BOOK COUNCIL OF AUSTRALIA INC. WOULD LIKE TO ACKNOWLEDGE THE JUDGES' REPORT, 1985.

CONNECTED

The experience of putting one's finger to the trigger and pulling it through the cycle of motion is illustrated in each of the photos. The moment of truth is when the bullet leaves the gun. This book details how the gun and the bullet are synchronized in the moment of truth.

NO TIME FOR ERRORS

Christopher C. Miller

The reader is invited to join the adventure and experience the thrill of the hunt. The book is packed with information on the mechanics of the gun, the techniques of shooting, and the excitement of the chase.

Alfred A. Knopf...
The Winning Authors

JAMES ALRIDGE

The joy of reading, especially with her favorite in the middle of the room, was indicated as the child stood before the mirror with her hands outstretched. She was wearing a dress designed by her mother, who had taken great care in selecting the colors and patterns. The dress was made of fine fabric, with intricate embroidery that caught the light. Her hair was styled in loose curls, framing her face as she turned to face the mirror, smiling contentedly.

---

class c junior book of the year

The focus on junior fiction continues to grow, with increasing emphasis on providing engaging, educational, and entertaining stories for young readers. The selection process is rigorous, ensuring that each book selected not only entertains but also informs and inspires. The winning authors have demonstrated exceptional talent in storytelling, capturing the imaginations of their young audiences. Their works serve as a testament to the power of literature in shaping the minds of future generations.