The Publisher
Crawl..

It's day 6 of the Maurice Saxby Creative development program, and we are just a bunch of crazy book-nerd gals getting increasingly drunk on children's literature. This program is like a pub crawl, except you are visiting publishers, not pubs. And you are happily throwing down excellent books, not nasty beer.

"I loveshh aaalllll theesh booksh and I I lovesh yoush allllllsh ggaaaaallss."

Allen and Unwin, Scribble, and Hardie Grant were most welcoming, fascinating, and inspiring. Every publishing house does seem to have it's own flavour, values and vibe. This program provides a great opportunity to try and learn about the differences of each.

We have also attended a few Melbourne Writers festival events at the State library Monster for Scale
