"I'm worthy of good penguin love." Now you say it girls!

cuddle therapy!

Sadly, the final days of this program are upon us. Last hurrahs have included a visit to Books Illustrated, where we were warmly welcomed by the delightful Ann Haddon and Ann James, and a really interesting chat with Agent Clare Forster from Curtis Brown.

We also visited Penguin Random House where we were given an excellent short course in book design, and a lovely smorgasbord of children's books to enjoy.

Tracey and I even managed to undergo some excellent "Penguin Therapy". (Well timed, seeing as we both have books that will be published by PenguinKids in 2023.)

This program has been TRANSFORMATIVE. I paused on the long drive home to enjoy the view of a canola field, and wouldn't have been at all surprised if I suddenly sprouted a pair of wings, or an extra head.

Thankyou!
